

I use my XM Traffic and Weather EVERYDAY! I hope that by sending this email I can in some way prevent that from being taken away from me. Our society is built and based on competition. If XM wants to provide Traffic and Weather and their loyal listeners want to hear it, why can't they?

Maybe someone should pick on cable companies like Comcast who make promises of digital service, make you pay through the nose for it and then give you a receiver without digital hook-ups, run the signal through regular co-ax cable, and concentrate their bandwidth on MTV and BET instead of Discovery or History channels.
